DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. Applicant's amendment filed June 24, 2008 in which the Specification, The Drawings and Claims 1, 3, 5-7, 9 and 11-12 have been amended and Claims 2 and 8 have been cancelled, has been placed of record in the file.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

3. Claims 11-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kossakowski, et al. This module comprises an electric switch (20), a housing 1 and a locking element 4 with an associated push button 5' (Fig. 2) or 5 (Fig. 4). The locking element is biased by spring 8 and therefore resiliently deflects as claimed. The method claims are deemed inherent and are rejected as shown above.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 1, 3-7 and 9-10 are allowed.

The references fail to teach, disclose, or suggest, either alone or in combination, regarding Claim 1, the switch having an opening therein that enables the locking element to move into the release position only when the switch is rotated to a defined switching position; regarding Claim 5, the push button coupled to the at least one locking element and configured to unlock the at least one locking element enabling it to be deflected, and wherein the switch is further configured to act upon the at least one locking element and resiliently deflect it into a position that releases the housing; Claim 7, the push button configured to unlock the switch enabling it to rotate, and wherein the switch is further configured to resiliently deflect the at least one locking element to a release position and release the housing and in combination with the rest of the limitations of the base claims.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed June 24, 2008 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. In response to Applicant's arguments regarding Claims 11-12 that the Kossakowski reference doesn't show the step of operating a push button to release the locking element from a locking position and the step of operating a push button to unlock the switch, Applicant's attention is directed to Column 2, Lines 62-67 to Column 3, Lines 1-10, in which Kossakowski clearly discloses push button (5) performing the argued steps.

Conclusion

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL necessitated by amendment. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
